

ALL READY NOW FOR HORSE SHOW

Great Exhibition of Equines and Society Opens Monday, with More and Better Entries than Ever Before, at the Garden.

HAS INTERNATIONAL INTEREST THIS YEAR.

For the First Time Since 1894 Foreign Exhibitors Will Take Part—Some of Those Who Have Entered for Prizes.

Society is priming itself these days, and millinery dressmakers and milliners know little sheep, for on Monday next the Horse Show will begin at Madison Square Garden. It is to be the biggest equine fair ever held in New York—big from the viewpoint of entries and the high class of animals. As only the rich can afford to possess the best in horse-flesh, and as it is the rich who compose society, so the show also will surpass in brilliancy of women's apparel, jewels and attendance of the "upper crust" anything in the past efforts of the National Horse Show Association.

Notable among the list of absent exhibitors this year will be Reginald K. Vanderbilt and Dr. W. E. Woodend. If "Reggie" had told District Attorney Jerome all he knows about Richard Canned he would undoubtedly have a chance to win a yard or two of blue ribbon with his horses, but all he can do is look on from afar. Dr. Woodend had known more about business than it would seem he does he would still be a broker no doubt and priding himself on beating his record of thirty-six entries of last year, which was the biggest exhibit ever made by an individual. Judge William H. Moore, of Chicago, who won the Waldorf Astoria cup last year with Forest King, also will be absent, having declined to make any entries on account of the recent death of his son.

More Entries This Year.

There are 100 more entries this year than last and in the eyes of horsemen this increase is gratifying, as it includes classes of roadsters and trotters and breeding which were missing in the shows of the three years past. There will be forty-seven more roadsters and trotters shown. The increase in the entries also is due to the bringing from England of three rings of hackneys to make the native product look too tame. Some good saddlers and ponies, also, have come from across the sea, and there is promise of warm contests. Not since 1894 has the interest of foreigners been awakened in the American horse fair. That year not only England, but France and Russia were represented. One of the English hackneys in the list was bred by King Edward.

Some of the Champions.

Mrs. John Gerken has entered Lord Brilliant, which last year, after being beaten by Judge Moore's Forest King for the Waldorf Astoria cup, defeated the King in the championship class. The reversal of the judgment caused no end of talk, but it was owing to the fact that Lord Brilliant, a professional driver, forced Lord Brilliant to do his best. The big horse fairly swept Forest King off his feet, and when put to the test sprang badly.

A spectacular feature in the judging of the hunters will be what is sometimes called the "eleven jump." It is really an in and out jump, the hunter going into a boxlike obstacle, then another, turning without losing stride, and repeating, this being followed by taking the sidebars into the ring. To complete the ride the riders take a five-rail fence, first removing the top or fifth rail with his crop, and doing so without dismounting.

In this class there are about twenty entries, and among them some notable performers. The stables of Robert M. Key, Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, R. H. Weatherbee, Mrs. Courtland H. Smith and Charles Pitzer will be represented. There will be old favorites among the jumpers and hunters, namely, Free Lance, Timber Topper, Fleurette, Galloway, Rife, Pearl, Your Fellow, Highball, Torchlight and Blue Girl.

Among the Exhibitors.

Carriages, horses, in pairs and singly, and high steppers will be shown by E. D. Jordan, Mrs. J. B. M. Grosvenor, Mrs. J. H. Moore, Mrs. H. F. Carman, Mrs. John Gerken, William Carr, E. H. Weatherbee, Mrs. E. R. Ladew, J. H. Moore, Mrs. George D. King, Mrs. Paul A. Borg, H. H. Salmon, Frances Roche, L. L. Biddle and Stuart Duncan. Tansies will be many, and among the owners will be Mrs. W. Weatherbee, Mrs. Gerken, E. D. Jordan, Miss Ross, Albert de Cerna and Dr. J. L. Wentz. The single horse class has twenty entries, as compared with eight last year. The exhibitors will include J. W. Lawson, A. B. Macley, H. G. Ladew, R. R. Ladew, George Coleman, and Miss K. L. Wilkes. Only one was shown last year in the 220 class for trotters, and this year there will be five, while four 230 pacers are on the list. Dr. and Mrs. E. D. still are to show their Speedway favorite. In the trotting breeding classes there are larger entries all along the line, the greatest increase being in stallions four years old or over, thirteen showing this year, where there were only five a year ago. Among the breeders represented will be R. E. Bonner, E. R. Ladew, H. N. Bain, A. B. Macley, George A. Coleman, and C. J. and Harry Hamlin.

THIEF CAN'T STOP STAGE FOLKS' SONG

Landlady and Her Fifteen Boarders Troop to Police Station and Tell How They Have Been Robbed.

ACTORS AND ACTRESSES ALL REPORT LOSSES

While Sleuths Go in Search of Missing Articles Performers Give an Entertainment and Police Off Post Applaud.

Sergeant Mulcahy was ruminating on the loneliness of a night sergeant's job in the West Thirty-seventh street police station to-day when Mrs. Elizabeth Frazier and her fifteen boarders of No. 308 West Thirty-first street trooped into the station in double file.

"Sergeant, some low, mean sneak thief went through my house to-night and carried off a lot of valuables, including a lot of clothing. These are my boarders, and they have all been robbed."

"Tell me all about it," said Mulcahy, as he sent for a couple of plain-clothes men.

"Well, some of the boarders are actors and they were away at their work, and a lot of the others were out at the theatre or elsewhere and the sneak thief must have got in with a false key," said Mrs. Frazier. "He went into almost every room and took whatever he liked. No one saw him, and it wasn't until after the folks came home and went to their rooms that we learned of the robbery."

Elopers Not Spared.

"Oh! yes, and he took a very valuable relic from my—I mean our room," broke in Maurice Friedlander. "We—er—that is, my wife and I eloped from England a year ago. My wife had a priest's stole, a very valuable relic that had been in her family for years and years, and which was valued at several thousand dollars. The thieves even took that."

Sang in Station-House.

"I'll tell you what to do," said Mulcahy, "you can try your songs over here while these sleuths are out seeking the thieves. Get to the back shop, boys," he said to the departing sleuths. After a little persuasion the concert singer consented to try her songs over, the "actress in voodvillie" did a song and dance and the boarders who were not in the profession formed a humming chorus. The shift that had come in off duty at midnight rolled down from their coats and applauded to the hilt. The boarders almost forgot their losses in the excitement of the entertainment to do to-morrow night. What shall I do?"

What the Baby Needed.

"I suffered from nervousness and headache until one day about a year ago it suddenly occurred to me what a great coffee drinker I was, and I thought maybe this might have something to do with my trouble, so I shifted to tea for a while, but was not better, if anything, worse."

"At that time I had a baby four months old that we had to feed on the bottle until an old lady friend told me to try Postum Food Coffee. Three months ago I commenced using Postum, leaving off the tea and coffee, and not only have my headaches and nervous troubles entirely disappeared, but since then I have been giving plenty of nurse for my baby and have a large, healthy child now."

"I have no desire to drink anything but Postum, and know it has benefited my children, and I hope all who have children will try Postum and find out for themselves what a really wonderful food drink it is."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Both tea and coffee contain quantities of a poisonous drug called caffeine that directly affects the heart, kidneys, stomach and nerves. Postum is made from cereals only, scientifically blended to get the coffee flavor. Ten days' trial of Postum in place of tea or coffee will show a health secret worth more than a gold mine. There's a reason. Get the book, "The Road to Well-being," to each one.

No Urging to Buy---Lambert Goods Speak for Themselves.

"If you would only put on more style," began a kindly critic yesterday. We stopped him, for we knew what was coming. We said we are satisfied with our unpretentious store in a street far from fashion. If we moved into a stylish neighborhood our rent and other operating expenses would soar, and we should have to charge more for our goods. The lack of costly style is part of the system by which we sell high-class jewelry at low prices. Call to-day and satisfy yourself that you can do more with little money at LAMBERT'S than at any other jewelry store in town. You will not be urged to buy. Our stock and our prices are so attractive that no urging is needed.

Every article you see was either made in our own factory on the premises or bought direct of the manufacturer for spot cash. All our diamonds are bought at importers' figures. You pay no tribute to middlemen.

Our vaults continue to fill up with holiday gifts, duly engraved and ready for delivery. There is space left, and although our factory is getting busy there is time for the prompt and careful execution of orders for engraving. After the Christmas rush begins we make no promises. We only agree to do our best in the way of delivery on time.

Flowers on Birthday Rings.

The pretty custom which associates a birthday flower with every month has led to the making of birthday rings of solid 14-kt. gold, engraved with the flowers in the vigorous, natural style for which our designers are famous. To-day we illustrate the showy chrysanthemum for November, December's time-honored holly and the lonely wild rose of January. One of these rings is a tasteful gift. Price $7.50. Other Signet Rings from $3.75 to $35

Chosen by a Judge of Gems.

A fine diamond of moderate size in a solid 14-kt. gold mounting. Chosen in Amsterdam with many others before the recent advances in prices. With middlemen's profit to pay it would be rather expensive. The LAMBERT price is but $25. Other single-stone Diamond Rings from $10 to $850

A Ring to Be Enjoyed.

If you like fine stones, you will enjoy this fine gem. A caller who looked at it the other day called it "Solid Sunshine." It is superbly cut and mounted in solid 14-kt. gold, and the price is $85 remarkably low for this regal diamond. Others from $10.00 to $350.00

Showy but Inexpensive.

Visitors desiring a showy and elegant, but not costly ring, are advised to inspect this one. Please recollect that while the cut shows the approximate size, no illustration can even indicate the fiery beauty of the stone. Price $60

Sapphire Between Diamonds.

Nestling between two diamonds of fine quality is a sapphire fit for such company in every way. A notable example of our factory product. Solid 14-kt. gold mounting. The price of this trio of beauties is $165 Many three-stone Rings, $15.00 to $750.00

Finely Matched and Mounted.

Two carefully matched diamonds, cut and mounted in the highest style of the jeweller's art. Imagine somebody's delight upon receiving such a present Christmas morning. Price $75. Other twin Rings $20 to $750

A Dainty Trinity.

Trio of dainty diamonds mounted in solid 14-kt. gold. Bought at any other first-grade shop would cost $50 for it.

Our Wedding Rings.

All our talk in the newspapers would never have made LAMBERT'S Semless Wedding Rings so popular if the Rings themselves did not deserve their reputation. We make them all of solid gold, and we guarantee purity of metal and excellence of workmanship. We take pride in making every one of them worthy of the solemn occasion in which so many thousands of them have been used. All widths and weights. Prices—14-kt., $3 to $12; 18-kt., $4 to $16; 22-kt., $6 to $20. No charge for engraving.
